

The Kenton County Airport Board Selects New Director of Information Technology

Kevin Jones

The Kenton County Airport Board has selected Kevin Jones to be the new Director of Information Technology at the Cincinnati/Northern Kentucky International Airport (CVG) beginning February 27.

In his new role, Jones will be responsible for managing staff and directing the information technology and telecommunication related activities of the airport in support of CVG's Strategic Plan. Jones will also provide direction and support for daily operational activities of the IT Department including customer service, network security, network infrastructure, software development, evaluation and implementation of new software and technologies, software systems support, telecommunications, technical support and IT policy development.

Jones has been an IT Professional for 17 years both in large scale private sector and government environments. He was most recently the Division Manager of IT Applications, Support, and Data Analytics for the Houston Airport System (City of Houston) which included George Bush Intercontinental (IAH), William P. Hobby (HOU) and Ellington Field (EFD).

Jones has a Bachelor of Science degree in Computer Science and a Bachelor of Science degree in Finance, both from Jacksonville State University in Jacksonville, AL.

This search was conducted by ADK Executive Search, a retained executive search firm specializing exclusively in searches for the aviation community.

###