The Region

Detroit is the largest city in the midwestern state of Michigan. Near Downtown, the neoclassical Detroit Institute of Arts is famed for Diego Rivera murals inspired by the city's long-standing ties to the auto industry, which earned it the nickname "Motor City." Detroit is also the birthplace of Motown Records, whose chart-topping history is on display at Hitsville U.S.A.

Detroit is a city on the upturn; a city ready for what's next.

Culture: Just three miles from downtown, head to Detroit's Cultural Center, which is chock-full of art, science and history museums. Check out the 100 galleries of The Detroit Institute of Arts (DIA), with a collection that is among the top six in the United States. Explore the Detroit Historical Museum across from the DIA with its popular Streets of Detroit showcase. The Charles H. Wright Museum of African American History is the only one of its kind in the country. Visit the Museum of Contemporary Art Detroit (MOCAD) for an edgier arts experience. Performing arts offerings include Broadway shows, headliner entertainers, opera, dance, and the symphony at the fabulous Fox Theatre, Detroit Opera House, Fisher Theatre, and Max M. Fisher Music Center.

Music: Detroit is Motown. Visit the Motown Museum — Hitsville USA – to see where the Supremes, Stevie Wonder, Smokey Robinson and other stars revolutionized the world of music. Find jazz, rock, soul, classical, and more at venues in our five destination districts. Enjoy headliner shows at The Palace of Auburn Hills and DTE Energy Music Theatre, or jazz in intimate settings like Cliff Bell's. For ultra-hip concert venues, check out the Fillmore Detroit, St. Andrews or the Majestic Theatre.

Sports: Major league sporting events are on the agenda year-round in metro Detroit. Even if you can't get a ticket, a must see is Comerica Park where giant tigers guard the gates for our Detroit Tigers professional baseball team. The Detroit Lions football team roars at Ford Field next door, and when the Detroit Pistons and the Detroit Red Wings move to the Little Caesar's Arena in September, that will put the Pistons, Red Wings, Tigers and Lions all within four blocks of the city's downtown. Detroit will be the only city with the teams housed in its core.

Cars: You can rev up just about any day to experience why Detroit is the Motor City. For historic Detroit attractions, visit the elegant homes of the auto barons including Dodge and Ford, or explore the Ford Piquette Avenue Plant, the birthplace of the Model T. The Henry Ford, America's greatest history attraction, offers a tour of the Ford Rouge Factory that showcases environmental innovation and industrial production. Tour the Automotive Hall of Fame with in-depth visual and interactive exhibits about automotive history, its leaders and innovators.

Ann Arbor

Located less than an hour from Detroit is the thriving city of Ann Arbor, home to the University of Michigan. Ann Arbor is filled with arts and culture, international cuisine, outdoor recreation, festivals, events, and more.

Although geographically small, the area is perhaps most renowned for its globally-inspired cultural offerings. From exclusive art exhibits to performances by jazz legends, there are abundant opportunities to enjoy arts and culture. You'll find more than 30 independent bookstores, dozens of unique galleries, and a variety of top-notch museums all within the downtown area — including the distinguished University of Michigan Museum of Art.

Dining aficionados will appreciate the nearly 300 restaurants within a 20-mile radius of Ann Arbor, including the famous Zingerman's Deli. Options range from old-fashioned Italian bistros to trendy, contemporary American restaurants. Many offer al fresco dining in the warmer months, which, when combined with the array of jazz and dance clubs in the area, makes downtown Ann Arbor a vibrant destination for nightlife.

On almost any given weekend, your visit will coincide with one of the many festivals and special events hosted in Ann Arbor. Two of the most recognizable traditions are the Ann Arbor Art Fair and University of Michigan football. Every July, the award-winning Ann Arbor Art Fair transforms the downtown streets into an art gallery featuring thousands of juried artists. In the fall, each football Saturday brings more than 100,000 people to town for tailgating and fill "The Big House" to watch the University of Michigan Wolverines. In the winter, holiday light festivals and the Ann Arbor Folk Festival are always crowd pleasers. April brings the thaw and a weekend unlike any other as we celebrate whimsy during FoolMoon and Fistfuls.

Described as an urban oasis, the Ann Arbor area is also the perfect four-season destination for outdoor enthusiasts. You'll discover golf courses designed by legendary architects, trails groomed for hiking and cross-country skiing, some of the best canoeing and kayaking in southeastern Michigan along the twelfth nationally recognized water trail — the Huron River.
