

The Indianapolis Airport Authority Announces New Appointment for Director of Parking Operations

Steve Wilson

INDIANAPOLIS, IN – The Indianapolis Airport Authority has named Steve Wilson as the new Director of Parking Operations at the Indianapolis International Airport (IND).

In his new position, Wilson will be responsible for the twenty-four (24) hour, seven (7) days a week parking, shuttle, and ground transportation operations, along with related general maintenance of the operating areas.

He will also be responsible for the oversight of all work activities related to the parking system and parking strategy implementation, proper management, operation, maintenance, development, and promotion of the public parking, shuttle and ground transportation operations, along with supervision of all related personnel, planning, and logistics support.

Wilson brings over 12 years of progressive experience in the parking industry to his position at IND. Most recently, he served for eight years as a Senior Project Manager at Denison Parking, Inc. Prior to that, he was the Special Projects Coordinator after a stint as the Parking Facility Manager/Operations Manager, both positions also with Denison Parking, Inc.

“I’m excited to take on new challenges and further advance my career with the Indianapolis Airport Authority,” said Wilson. “I look forward to getting acclimated to the position and enjoying their great work culture. Through the direction of their executive staff I plan to make gradual improvements and ensure that their customers receive world class service.”

Wilson holds a Bachelor of Science degree in Criminal Justice from the University of Indianapolis in Indianapolis, Indiana.
