About the Port Authority of New York & New Jersey

The Port Authority of NY & NJ builds, operates, and maintains critical transportation and trade assets. Its network of aviation, rail, surface transportation and seaport facilities annually moves millions of people and transports vital cargo throughout the New York/New Jersey region. The Port Authority also owns and manages the 16-acre World Trade Center site, home to the iconic One World Trade Center.

The Port Authority of NY & NJ operates the world's busiest airport system – John F. Kennedy International, Newark Liberty International, LaGuardia, Stewart International and Teterboro airports – and has a management agreement at Atlantic City International Airport. The Port Authority's airports produce revenues of $2.4 billion and are staffed by more than 1,500 aviation professionals (70% unionized operations and maintenance staff) from the Port Authority, along with thousands of contracted staff.

In 2016, the agency's airports handled more than 130 million passengers and 2 million tons of cargo.

Strategic Goals

- Invest in physical infrastructure for world-class facilities
- Grow incremental revenue and identify operating efficiencies
- Enhance airport competitiveness and air service for people and cargo
- Improve customer experience and business partner satisfaction
- Ensure safety and security of airports at all times
- Attract, retain, and equip staff with appropriate skills to support departmental goals

2017 Capital Budget Overview

Aviation's 2017 Capital Budget provides for $989 million in expenditures. The 2017 Capital Budget focuses on addressing aging infrastructure, safety and security, and congestion and delays. Over 60% of the 2017 Capital Budget for Aviation is dedicated to the ongoing modernization effort at LaGuardia Airport, including construction of LGA Terminal B and related infrastructure. In 2017, several milestones are anticipated for the LaGuardia Redevelopment Program, including progress on the construction of LGA Terminal B and the West Parking Garage.

Aviation Department Mission

To plan, develop, provide, promote, operate and maintain a unified system of safe and secure regional airport facilities, providing the region with unsurpassed global access and restoring the region to its preeminent status as the nation's gateway for passengers and cargo, and to do so with sensitivity for the community and the environment.

Major Capital Projects:

LaGuardia Airport Redevelopment

The Port Authority of New York and New Jersey operates LaGuardia Airport and is leading the modernization and redevelopment of the airport to meet the needs of the 21st century. The comprehensive redesign of LaGuardia Airport involves transforming LaGuardia into a unified airport with a main terminal, better transportation access with a future air train, more taxiways and best-in-class passenger amenities.

Construction of the new unified terminal – Terminal B – is expected to be a $4 billion project creating 8,000 direct jobs and 10,000 indirect jobs. The construction of a new Delta Terminal C is expected to proceed as the next phase of the redevelopment program.

Newark Liberty International Airport - Terminal A Redevelopment

Setting a New Standard for Air Travel

The Port Authority is embarking on a major modernization and redevelopment program to position the airport to meet the needs of the 21st Century. A new Terminal A will replace the existing Terminal Building, which opened to the public in 1973 with a design capacity of 9 million annual passengers. Terminal A served over 10 million passengers in 2015. The redevelopment program is estimated to cost $2.3 billion.

The vision for a new design includes four main elements. These elements include a brand new Terminal A, Airfield, Parking Garage and completely redesigned Landside and Roadway.

John F. Kennedy International Airport Vision and Master Plan Implementation

With an estimated $1 billion Port Authority investment and an anticipated $8-10 billion private investment, the proposed JFK Vision and Master Plan will center around a comprehensive, airport-wide framework for transforming JFK into a unified, world-class, 21st Century airport. The overall planning approach includes a Vision Plan, Master Plan, Feasibility Analysis, Airport Access, and Capacity Planning. Planning efforts will focus on an interconnected terminal layout, terminal redevelopment, redesign of the on-airport traffic pattern, expanded taxiways, world-class amenities, and state-of-the-art security technology.

New York City

There is no more iconic city in the world than New York City. Those fortunate enough to live in the Big Apple vow that they wouldn't want to be anywhere else. And for good reason!

Songs have been sung about it, stories have been written about it, and film and television use the city as an awesome backdrop to their plots. New York City has something for every taste. From incredible art galleries and museums to some of the world's best restaurants, New York's many offerings are well known to most visitors. New York is a vibrant, charming, and predictably unpredictable city that engenders passion among locals and envy among visitors.

Most people realize that New York is a city in constant motion, with upscale new hotels, cool restaurants and bars, and attractions opening at eye-popping speeds. In the past year alone, the city has seen major openings like the Whitney Museum of American Art's new home designed by Renzo Piano, stunning new accommodations like the Baccarat Hotel, the New York Edition and 1 Hotel Central Park, and fun additions that diners are enjoying, like Gabriel Kreuther and the Clocktower. Whether you want to check out the best artisanal shops in the most up-and-coming neighborhoods, or visit a local market or sports venue, New York City has you covered.

It's virtually impossible to list the many benefits of living in the city that never sleeps, but suffice it to say that you could do something different every day for years.

Museum goers flock to the Metropolitan Museum, the American Museum of Natural History, The Whitney, and a plethora of others. There are approximately 100 museums in New York City; something to suit every taste.

For those who love live theater, there is no better city in the world. There are Broadway and Off Broadway shows every day of the week ranging from comedies to drama to musicals, starring some of the most notable names in show business.

New York City also boasts some of the finest restaurants in the world. Bleeker Street Pizza has been named the best pizza in the city, and Mamoun's Falafel is the oldest falafel restaurant in New York. Molly's Cupcakes won the Food Network's Cupcake Wars. For fine dining, you will find offerings by celebrity chefs including Restaurant Daniel, Le Bernardin, Le Cirque and the venerable Delmonico's. A visit to the Russian Tea

Room is a fun experience, and you can never go wrong with a burger at the Shake Shack.

There are music venues featuring musical acts from around the globe, from classical, to Indie, to rock and roll.

Musicians flock to the city to try and grab their big break. Because as they say, "If I can make it there, I'll make it anywhere!" You'll find opera in Javits Center, saxophone solos in the subway and Doo-wop out on the streets.

For sports fans, New York City is home to the headquarters of the National Football League, the National Hockey League, the National Basketball Association, Major League Baseball, Minor league baseball, women's national soccer league, and Major League Soccer.

There have been fourteen World Series championship series between New York City teams, in matchups called Subway Series. New York is one of only two cities (Chicago being the other) and one of four metropolitan areas (the Los Angeles and San Francisco Bay areas) to have two baseball teams. The city's two current Major League Baseball teams are the New York Yankees and the New York Mets.

Football is the city's second most followed sport, slightly trailing baseball. The city is represented in the National Football League by the New York Giants and New York Jets. Basketball is one of the most widely played recreation sports in the city, and professional basketball is also widely followed. The city's National Basketball Association teams are the long-established New York Knicks and the Brooklyn Nets. Because of the city's strong historical connections with both professional and college basketball, the New York Knicks' home arena, Madison Square Garden, is often called the "Mecca of basketball."
