

New Assistant Aviation Director

Aaron Buob, C.M.

Aspen, CO – Pitkin County has appointed Aaron Buob, C.M., as the new Assistant Aviation Director for Aspen/Pitkin County Airport. Mr. Buob will begin his new position on February 19, 2019.

Aspen/Pitkin County Airport, covering an area of 573 acres, is located 3 miles northwest of the popular ski town of Aspen, having more regular service from major carriers than any other regional ski town airport in North America.

Mr. Buob most recently served as Airport Operations Manager for Denver International Airport (DEN), where he was responsible for managing airfield and terminal operations to ensure efficient flow, safety, and adherence to applicable federal and local rules and regulations. During his tenure with DEN, he also served as the Construction Liaison for the Operations Division, providing operational oversight and maintaining a defining role throughout the project life cycle as an important stakeholder in more than 50 airfield projects.

“It is an honor to be chosen as the Assistant Aviation Director of Aspen/Pitkin County Airport,” said Mr. Buob. “I am looking forward and am eager to make a positive contribution to the airport and to the community. The airport is experiencing significant growth and I’m ready to help guide ASE through one of its most dynamic periods in its 70-year history.”

Mr. Buob received a bachelor’s degree in Aviation Management from Metropolitan State University of Denver. He is a Certified Member (C.M.) of the American Association for Airport Executives (AAAE).
