

Massachusetts Port Authority Announces New Chief Information Officer

Kwang Chen

BOSTON, MA – The Massachusetts Port Authority has appointed Kwang Chen as the new Chief Information Officer. In this position, Mr. Chen will be responsible for establishing Information Technology strategy, organization and structure throughout the Authority to provide efficient, robust and secure information, telecommunications and security systems for employees and stakeholders, using Massport’s facilities and systems. He will begin his new position on June 11.

Mr. Chen has worked for more than 20 years within the transportation industry, holding senior IT leadership roles across operations, administration and systems. He most recently served as Project IT Director for Abu Dhabi Terminals. Previously he worked for Global Container Terminals Canada as Vice President, Terminal Support Services and Vice President, Information Technology and Process Improvement.

“This is an exciting time for Massport with a great deal of growth and a heavy reliance on technology,” said Mr. Chen. “I’m looking forward to working with the team and contributing to Massport’s continued success.”

Mr. Chen received a bachelor’s degree in Management Information Systems from Cal State University. He also received a master’s degree in Business Administration from University of Northern British Columbia.

Massachusetts Port Authority