

Massachusetts Port Authority Announces New Director of Airline Route Development

Mark Raker

BOSTON, MA – The Massachusetts Port Authority has appointed Mark Raker as Director of Airline Route Development, responsible for expanding and attracting new international and domestic passenger and cargo flights to Logan International Airport (BOS) and other Massport-owned or operated airports, while maintaining existing services. Mr. Raker began his new position today, Oct. 29.

Mr. Raker has more than 25 years of diverse international experience, including extensive management consulting experience with Sabre Airline Solutions specializing in strategic planning. He also served as Vice President, Air Service Development, for Chattanooga Metropolitan Airport Authority and held several cross-divisional leadership positions with Delta Air Lines in key commercial, operational and customer service roles.

Mr. Raker received a bachelor's degree in Aviation Management from the Jacksonville University and a master's degree in Business Administration from Georgia State University.

This national search was conducted by ADK Consulting & Executive Search, a retained executive search firm.

Logan International Airport