

The Ogdensburg Bridge & Port Authority Announces New Airport Manager

OGDENSBURG, NY – Ron Bogus has been named the new Airport Manager for the Ogdensburg International Airport (OGS). Located within two miles of Ogdensburg's central business district, OGS is owned by the Ogdensburg Bridge & Port Authority.

As Airport Manager, Mr. Bogus will be responsible for assessing, evaluating, coordinating, and overseeing the daily airport operations. He will also ensure that the airport complies with aviation regulations and procedures. He started his new position November 6, 2017.

Executive Director Wade A. Davis said, “Ron Bogus’ operations experience and expertise is invaluable as OGS continues to execute our growth strategy for the airport. I congratulate Ron on his appointment as airport manager and we look forward to the challenges ahead.”

Mr. Bogus most recently served as Airport Operations Officer for the Dallas Fort Worth International Airport (DFW) where he conducted and supervised inspections of seven runways, numerous taxiways, safety areas, ramp areas, and perimeter fencing for safety, security and general conditions. From 2005 to 2013, he served as Contract Project Manager/Airfield Manager for TRIAD Logistics Services Corporation. From 1984 to 2005, he served as Airfield Manager with the United States Air Force.

Mr. Bogus said he was attracted to the position of airport manager in Ogdensburg because of the vision of the OBPA in working to expand the facility in recent years.

“The vision of the Ogdensburg Bridge and Port Authority for continued airport growth is one that I am thrilled to be a part of,” Mr. Bogus said. “As I start my new position the goal is to ensure that OGS continues to provide air services that are rewarding and valued by our customers.”

Mr. Bogus earned a Bachelor of Arts in Business Administration from the American Military University.
