The Airport

Boise Airport is a joint civil-military airport just 10 minutes from downtown Boise, Idaho. Recently classified as a medium-hub airport, BOI is operated by the City of Boise Department of Aviation and is served in an advisory role by an Airport Commission.

The Boise Airport is Idaho's only major airport and is conveniently located in the heart of the Treasure Valley—a region that has recently seen an explosion in population growth. This exponential growth in our community has translated to an increased demand for air service, with passenger travel increasing 47% from 2010 to 2019. The airport has also seen a strong return to travel after the pandemic, with a new record for passenger counts set in 2022.

Change in population between the 2000 census to 2021:

To meet the demand of the traveling public, the Boise Airport has begun a multi-year capital improvement plan, BOI Upgrade, to increase capacity of several items and improve the passenger experience. Projects include multiple parking structures, a new rental car facility, and a new concourse. This project is being completed in phases, with the new concourse and apron as the final stage of the project with a target start date of 2027. This new concourse will allow the Boise Airport to increase its passenger capacity to more than 6 million annually.

The Boise Airport is served by eight airlines that offer direct flights to 25 nonstop destinations with connecting flights to thousands of cities worldwide. There are currently more than 40 aviation-related tenants at the Boise Airport.

As an essential form of business transportation, BOI has helped shape the size and structure of the local business landscape. Warehousing, office parks, hotels and aviation-related operations have been attracted to the efficiency, convenience and proximity of the airport. Boise Airport also serves as the gateway for leisure travelers visiting the Treasure Valley or accessing Idaho's wild backcountry.

BOI is a land of opportunity as the airport owns or controls more than 5,000 acres surrounding the airfield with new non-aeronautical developments currently underway. Construction was completed on a new cargo facility for Amazon and a new taxiway that connects this portion of the airfield to the runway in late 2022—paving the way for additional airfield tenants.

The Idaho Transportation Department, Aviation Division, conducts an Economic Impact Study for Boise Airport and other aviation facilities throughout the state approximately every 10 years. The most recent survey, completed in 2019 and published in 2020, reflected that impact at more than $2.9 billion.

Enplanements for 2022 were 2,248,435, up 9% from the previous record set in 2019, and the airport has approximately 139,466 operations per year.

The Community

Boise is Vibrant. First-time visitors often comment on Boise's vibrancy. Its vitality. Its energy. With an active arts community and lively downtown filled with shops, restaurants, night spots and—yes—people, Boise is alive with entertainment options.

Boise is Active. When in Boise, do as the locals do: get outside! The city's mild, four-season climate and easy access to mountains, rivers, lakes and more, make it a haven for those looking to explore beyond the city.

Boise is Unforgettable. Memories are made in moments; in the cheer of a crowd, the thrill of experiencing something new—of something unexpected. That's what makes Boise, with so many different events, sports and other exhilarating experiences, so extraordinary.

Boise is No Ordinary Place. Here, outdoor pursuits exist in perfect sync with city life. In minutes you can escape to float a river, ski, boat, hike, bike and more. Boise is becoming a hub for sports fans, too. Home to the famous blue turf of the Boise State Broncos, minor league baseball and ice hockey teams. Come watch a game, even a rodeo, or play on one of the many golf courses or other sporting venues available in the city.

Boise, the capital of Idaho and largest metropolitan center between Portland and Salt Lake City, offers beauty and adventure both outdoors and within our thriving arts scene. You'll find installations, murals and public art around the city, and can tour the Boise Art Museum, Idaho Anne Frank Human Rights Memorial, Zoo Boise, Discovery Center of Idaho, historical museums and other cultural hotspots.

Nationally-renowned theater and performing arts companies also call Boise home, including the Boise Contemporary Theater, Idaho Shakespeare Festival, Ballet Idaho, Idaho Dance Theatre, LED and the Velma V. Morrison Center.

Boise's food scene is diverse and delicious with distinctly Idaho highlights. Often using ingredients sourced from local farms and ranches. For endless variety in one stop, try downtown Boise. Nearly every style of food and attitude is on display—from swanky lounge menus to casual pub fare to ethnic cuisines.

At night, the downtown core becomes a playground. With an active local and regional music scene, several clubs and venues often feature live entertainment. Home to a distillery and several breweries, you can easily find a perfectly made cocktail or small-batch brew.
