The CVG Airport Authority Names Rebecca Jean as Senior Program Manager

CINCINNATI, OH – The CVG Airport Authority, which owns and operates the Cincinnati/Northern Kentucky International Airport (CVG), has named Rebecca Jean as Senior Program Manager. In this position, Ms. Jean will be responsible for providing coordination and integration of the Authority’s portfolio of projects. She will also be responsible for close coordination of the Authority’s capital programming. Ms. Jean began her new role on May 13, 2024.

Ms. Jean has an 18-year consulting career working for Sogeti USA where she focused on project and contract management. In her role as Manager and then Senior Manager, she worked with clients such as The Kroger Company, 84.51°, Total Quality Logistics and UC Health. She was responsible for project life cycle management, including organization, documentation, scheduling, risk mitigation and communication.

Rebecca Jean, PMP

“As a life-long Cincinnati, it is an honor to join the CVG Airport Authority team during this pivotal moment in the airport's history,” said Ms. Jean. “I am excited to work with teams across the CVG campus to ensure the best experiences for our staff, partners, and our customers from all over the world. I am grateful for this opportunity to provide support to CVG operations as the Elevate CVG program takes flight!”

Ms. Jean received a bachelor’s degree in Information Systems from Northern Kentucky University. She is also certified as a Project Management Professional.
